Message from Congress President

Dear Friends,

It is a privilege and an honor to welcome you to the WPA Regional Congress in association with the Japanese Society of Psychiatry and Neurology to be held in Osaka from June 4th to 6th, 2015. Japan has many things to teach us about psychiatry, psychiatric practice and innovations. In these days of economic uncertainty we need to learn how to deliver best services which our patients will find helpful. This Congress is truly an excellent opportunity to bring clinicians, researchers and policy makers together to share and learn from each other and how we can all work together to take the region forward. From community care to innovative intervention, this Congress offers a wonderful platform to explore a global vision but applied to individual nations. I look forward to meeting you in an exciting city for further discussions and deliberations.

Message from Congress Secretary General

Dear Friends,

I welcome you to the WPA Regional Congress Osaka Japan 2015. Asia is moving forward. As the hosting organization, the Japanese Society of Psychiatry and Neurology (JSPN) would like to provide an opportunity where international friends can learn about excellent advancements in Asia and Asian friends can obtain global perspectives about our experiences in the region.

Japanese psychiatry has its strengths and challenges. More students are becoming interested in psychiatry as the most detailed area of research on the brain, while also being a field of medical practice with humane contact. Access to good quality care is assured and nobody is turned away due to financial difficulty.

On the other hand, the high number of psychiatric beds has started to decrease gradually and the community care model is being developed, based on past experience of various countries. The aging of both the population and patients also poses huge issues, as in most countries in the world.

I welcome you to Osaka, the center of Kansai, which is culturally and traditionally different from Kanto, where Tokyo is located. Japan is one and Japan is also diverse. I hope that your academic and networking interests as well as touristic enjoyments will be fulfilled at this congress.

Congress Secretary General

Tsuyoshi AKIYAMA

Director of Department of Neuropsychiatry, NTT Medical Center Tokyo

Message from Congress Director

Dear Colleagues in Asia and in the World,

In May 2002, the first WPA World Congress in the Asian region was held in Yokohama in conjunction with the 100th Annual Meeting of JSPN. Since then, the number of participants of the JSPN Annual Meeting has significantly increased, with 6000-7000 participants in recent years.

The number of participants from foreign countries is also increasing, especially from Asian countries. As the President of JSPN, I welcome you to the WPA Regional Congress in Osaka in June 2015. In collaboration with the WPA Executive Committee led by the President, Dinesh Bhugra, JSPN has decided the theme of the Osaka Regional Congress to be "The Asian Partnership in the World," encouraging colleagues from Asian countries to get together to discuss important issues in psychiatry and mental health. Asian countries are undergoing economic growth and rapidly changing social structures, leaving many problems unresolved in psychiatric and mental health service. There are many issues that Asian psychiatrists can share with each other, while also learning from Western psychiatry. On behalf of JSPN, I hope many colleagues will attend the Osaka Regional Congress to share, learn, and disseminate important information in psychiatry.

Message from Congress President of JSPN

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

I am delighted that the 111th Annual Meeting of the Japanese Society of Psychiatry and Neurology will be held in association with the WPA Regional Congress Osaka 2015. You are invited to participate in this congress to learn about the latest developments in psychiatry and neuroscience. Osaka, the biggest city in western Japan, is a cosmopolitan city with modern infrastructure which has developed a unique culture together with Nara and Kyoto. In Nara, the ancient capital before Kyoto, within easy access from Osaka and Kyoto, a lot of assets that came from Japanese history and culture are scattered all around. The Congress offers an excellent opportunity to enjoy both academic pursuits and the culture and history of Japan. I cordially welcome my friends and colleagues to the Osaka Congress.
